In the season of love, Red Light Special: A Night Of Urban Burlesque® has a treat for Valentine's Day weekend at House of Yes on February 15, 2020. It's a night that takes adventurers through a mesmerizing journey of sensuality, artistry and culture, all from the mystifying mind of a woman.

This night of entertainment, story-telling, dancing and seductive playtime will satisfy just about any sensual pleasure one can imagine. From thigh-high fishnets and nipple tassles to twerking and twirling in the air, this will be a night to remember.

Art Of Legohn, LLC founder, choreographer and dancer, Yaminah Legohn, started the Red Light Special in 2015 with the intention of empowering people, particularly women, to enjoy their sexuality, experience liberation through dance, and share art through the magic of storytelling.

"I love to find new ways to express art through dance by empowering my audience and promoting culture all while leaving everyone mesmerized," Yaminah says.

Red Light Special has returned to the coveted stage of House of Yes, a premiere New York venue that hosts some of the most groundbreaking acts and performances the City has ever seen. Art Of Legohn is continuing to bring a line up of diverse and talented artists from the Art Of Legohn Dance Company and guest artists.

Red Light Special: A Night Of Urban Burlesque®, will feature Choreographer Yancy Greene, Performers Jon Jöni, Rita 2 It, Queen Ravenden, Jessica Figueroa, Alicia Hutchinson, Stacey Letrice "DHQ Jukeboxx" and more!

Renown radio host, DJ Hard Hittin Harry, known for his dynamic show, HAITIAN ALL-STARZ RADIO on WBAI 99.5 FM, will be bringing the heat on the ones and twos, playing Trip Hop, sounds of the Caribbean, Afrobeats, Trap music and more.

Guests are in for a treat because not only will they enjoy the performances and social vibe, they will also indulge in the flavors of the night with cocktails available at the bar by House Of Yes and our art exhibit featuring work by Shayla Russel, Hallie Kruger, Asha Qüwan, Yaminah Legohn and more! The most unique element of Red Light Special: A Night Of Urban Burlesque® is its integration of several art forms including Dance, Acting and Visual Arts.
